

Legends of the Five Rings

Heroes of Rokugan

Spirit of Bushido

Hida Atsushige's Sake Cup

Hida Atsushige was the general who led the Crab invasion of Ryoko Owari during the reign of Hantei the XVII. He was a skilled general who found himself the target of many poisoning attempts. He possessed a strength of will that brought him through them, however, and a portion of that spirit has been invested in his cup. A character who carries Atsushige's sake cup receives a +1k1 bonus against any attempts to poison them.

However, Atsushige also had a major drinking problem (possibly related to the burdens of trying to govern an ungovernable city in the Scorpion lands), and that trait has also passed through the cup. A character carrying Atsushige's sake cup gains a three-point Compulsion: Drinking Disadvantage for no character points.

GM signature